Dear Sir,

I write as an old customer to ascertain if your factory is still functioning and whether you can help me again solve a pressing problem.

When in 1953 my sister was having problems with pregnancy I ordered a drug from you which helped correct the fault and made her bear children.

The enclosed letter which came from you relate to the order and I had to retrieve it from archives because of the urgency of my new problem.

My grand-daughter had a baby ten years ago but would wish to bear a child to a new husband since that is the mainstay of our marital life. This unfortunately is long-coming and I am falling on you for assistance.

I pray you write back at your earliest convenience with quotations and or any information necessary.

Please use my present address above.

Anxiously awaiting reply
Yours faithfully,

NB. Please

Tell me what to do and what to send.

Old Customer,
